FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Preservation Hall Jazz Band, a group of New Orleans musicians who have traveled the world playing the famous music they created decades ago, will hold a free concert on Sunday, July 3, 2 p.m. at Sigmund Stern Grove, 19th Avenue and Sloat Boulevard.

Now in their 60s, 70s and 80s, the band members still play with the spirit and joy that is symbolic of New Orleans jazz. These were among the musicians who brought together the marches, quadrilles, blues, spirituals and ragtime to create what has become known as new Orleans jazz.

Preservation Hall in New Orleans originally was a place where the musicians could get together to play mostly for their own pleasure. Now people from all over the world pack the benches each night to hear jazz as it was played when it was created.

In addition, Preservation Hall Jazz Bands have traveled throughout the world to bring their music to audiences everywhere.

The music they play is simple in technical terms but complex in performance. Because they improvise as they go along, each concert is an original that will never be reconstructed in exactly the same way.

Mayor George R. Moscone invites all San Franciscans to attend a festive 4th of July celebration at the Band Concourse in Golden Gate Park for the Rededication Ceremony of the Francis Scott Key Statue.

Expected to be present at the Rededication Program are civic dignataries, history buffs and private citizens who supported the restoration drive.

The Golden Gate Park Band, under the direction of Robert M. Hansen, will play patriotic favorites commencing at 11:30 a.m. with the Rededication Ceremony scheduled for noon.

This patriotic event is the result of devoted efforts on the part of many San Franciscans and civic groups who felt that the monument was an important part of the heritage of Golden Gate Park to be preserved and cherished by future generations.

A Twin Bicentennial time capsule will be buried for 100 years to commemorate the Rededication Program.

First erected in 1887, the Francis Scott Key Statue was the first monument to the man who wrote the words to the National Anthem. It was removed from the Band Concourse when a connecting wing was constructed at the California Academy of Sciences in 1967.

The restoration was a Bicentennial Project under the direction of Architect James Hahn.

Funding came from several sources including private citizens, a $25,000 grant from the State Bicentennial Commission and a $25,000 donation from the California Academy of Sciences. The balance of the funds were obtained from San Francisco's share of the 1974 State Beach, Park, Recreational and Historical Facilities Bond Act.

Most of the statue is constructed of bronze and marble, and it consists of a life size figure of Key on a travertine pedestal under a canopy upheld by 4 Corinthian columns crowned by bronzed eagles and buffalo heads. On top is a figure of "Liberty" bearing a banner and sword.

The work of William Wetmore Story, the statue was a gift of James Lick, who left $60,000 in his will for construction.

The reconstruction project was under the direction of the Bureau of Architecture and the Department of Public Works.

Francis Scott Key was a lawyer by profession, who was born in Fredrick County, Maryland, August 9, 1780 and died in Baltimore, January 11, 1843.

About September 12, 1814, Francis Scott Key, with the approval of President Madison, visited the Admiral of the British Fleet in Chesapeake Bay to secure the release of his friend, Doctor Beanes, who was being detained by the British. Key's party was also detained on board the ship due to the intended attack by the British on Baltimore. The patriot Francis Scott Key was thus compelled to witness the bombardment of Fort McHenry, which began on the morning of September 13th and lasted until the early hours of the 14th when "by the dawn's early light" he saw "that our flag was still there!"

The attack had failed and Key and his party were released. The British Fleet withdrew from the Bay. In the fervor of the moment, Key sketched the lines of the song on the back of a letter. He finished the text in Baltimore. The words were first printed on September 20, 1814 in the Baltimore Patriot and later they were printed in the Baltimore American. A hand-bill was printed of the text and distributed widely on September 21, 1814, one day after the words were first published.

The Star Spangled Banner did not become officially adopted by the United States as the National Anthem until the 1930's. It was widely used. The tune was composed by John Stafford Smith, an English Organist, for a popular song in 1775. The song became well known in the United States and was widely sung to words by Robert Treat Paine of Boston under the title of "Adams and Liberty". The original song began "Ye sons of Columbia, who bravely have fought, for those rights which unstained from your sires have descended".

In honor of a man who devoted most of his life to helping people, Mayor George R. Moscone will officially rename the Margaret S. Hayward Boys Playground to the James P. Lang Field.

The ceremony is scheduled to take place Thursday, July 28, 7 p.m. at the playfield, Turk and Octavia Streets.

The late Mr. Lang, a former General Manager of the San Francisco Recreation and Park Department, began his distinguished career of 41 years of public service in 1928. He retired in 1969.

Attending the ceremony will be Mrs. Katherine Lang and her family, John J. Spring, General Manager of the San Francisco Recreation and Park Department, as well as many civic and community leaders, former co-workers, Unified School District athletic personnel and friends. Superintendent of Recreation, Joseph Misuraca, will act as Master of Ceremonies.

Lang attended St. Peter's Grammar and High School in the Mission District and graduated from St. Mary's College. He began as a Playground Director in 1928, and accepted a permanent appointment in 1930. He was primarily involved in Mens and Boys Athletics and worked as a Supervisor of Athletics from 1937 - 1951. Lang was then appointed Assistant Recreation Superintendent in 1951; he became Recreation Superintendent in 1958 and in 1964, he was appointed General Manager and served until his retirement in 1969.

Among Lang's most successful accomplishments was his election as National President of the Amateur Softball Association of America in 1957 and the development of the Industrial Division Recreation Program for large companies. In addition, he served on many civic boards and commissions, notably the Catholic Youth Organization, Mount St. Joseph's Girls Home and the Serra Club. He was chairman of the building fund drive in 1953 - 1954, for the construction of the Church of St. Cecilia's in the Sunset District.

The event will be co-hosted by the San Francisco Recreation and Park Department and the Softball Advisory Board and will be followed by the city-wide fast-pitch "A" softball championship game.

Mayor George R. Moscone will be present to officiate at the Opening Day Celebration of the Daniel E. Koshland Park, Page and Buchanan Streets on Saturday, July 30, 1 p.m.

The park is the result of a gift by the children of Daniel Koshland and their spouses on the occasion of the civic-dignatary's 80th birthday.

Full costs for all phases of acquisition and development were borne by Mr. and Mrs. Howard Friedman, Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Geballe and Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Koshland, Jr.

The nearly one-acre site on a hill top overlooking Downtown and the Bay was acquired by the Koshland Family in 1973 and was accepted as a gift by the Recreation and Park Department and the Board of Supervisors.

Mayor Moscone emphasized the important role the community played in the planning and progress of San Francisco's newest park. He also stated that over the years, privated philanthropy has been an invaluable and essential element of Park improvements.

The extensive planning of the construction phase was conducted by the Recreation and Park Department in conjunction with the Koshland Family and many neighborhood groups, such as: The Zen Center, The Neighborhood Foundation, Page-Laguna Neighborhood Association, The G.R.O.U.P., The Community Street-work Center, Mint Hill -- Haight-Fillmore Neighborhood Association, The University of California Extension Center, Hayes Valley Public Housing Tenants Association, Gough-Page Nursery, Red Shield Community Center and Playground, The Community Design Center, Neighborhood Arts Theater, Helpers of the Holy Souls Convent, Hayes Valley Community Center, The San Francisco Police Community Relations and John Muir School and Child Care Center.

The innovative plan for the park was developed by Bob Royston and Pat Carlisle of the Landscape Architecture Firm of Royston, Hanamoto, Beck and Abey.

Expected to participate in the ceremony besides Mayor Moscone, are Daniel Koshland and his family, members of the Board of Supervisors, The Recreation and Park Commission, Department General Manager, John J. Spring and Huey Johnson, former President of the Trust for Public Land and currently Director of Resources for the State of California.

Neighborhood representatives and families of the Lower Haight District will join in the festivities. Food and music for the program will be donated by local groups. A balloon release will signify the official opening celebration of the park.

Young persons from the district are designing, painting and sewing a park flag which will be raised during the program.

Financial contributions by Foremost-McKesson, Inc. and San Francisco Foundation will assist in funding the neighborhood community relations program for the park.

As diverse and varied a program of acoustic country music as you can get with Mimi Farina featured performer, will get under way at the Grove, Sunday, August 14 as part of the Stern Grove Midsummer Music Festival.

"Country Music Potpourri" is the theme and those joining Farina on the stage include two acclaimed Bay Area groups and a solo performer who travels through once or twice a year -- the Arkansas Sheiks, New Bear Creek Boys and Bodie Wagner. Two years ago, country music was introduced at the Grove and proved a perfect compliment to the classical and eclectic programs which grace the perfect outdoor setting.

Mimi Farina needs no introduction to Bay Area audiences. She has been well-known around the country since the folk music era of the early 60's. Her name first came to prominence while recording with the late songwriter and husband Richard Farina, such classics as "Pack Up Your Sorrows" and "Children of Darkness." She has since written her own songs and opened concerts for Hoyt Axton, Gordon Lightfoot, Arlo Guthrie, Eric Andersen, Leo Kottke, Mose Allison, and Steve Goodman in addition to headlining in numerous clubs.

In late 1974, she started a non-profit organization, Bread and Roses, which is based in Mill Valley and brings free entertainment into hospitals and prisons. Many performers have donated their services for these concerts and the largest was held within San Quentin, with sister Joan Baez and Carlos Santana last April.

Mimi has just signed on the Columbia record label and is working on her first solo album.

The Arkansas Sheiks, who have performed at the Grove the last two years, play and sing American and British traditional and country music. Lead Sheik Karana Hattersley-Drayton plays guitar, dulcimer, piano, spoons and calls square dances; husband Michael joins on lead fiddle; and John Pedersen adds tenor and frailed banjo, second fiddle, pennywhistle and bass. Formed five years ago as an Appalachian string band, it has expanded its repertoire to include forms such as ragtime. The Richmond-based group's first album "Whiskey Before Breakfast" has been released on the Bay Records (Oakland) label.

The New Bear Creek Boys return after an initial visit to the Grove last year. Formed seven years ago in their native Santa Cruz, fiddler Stanley Meidinger and mandolin picker Joe Kimbro are the veteran members of the group. New additions over the past year include Jud Elking, cowboy guitar picker from Hollister, banjo player Bob Smith and bass musician George Bowen.

Bodie Wagner has been on the road the past five years and first came through the Bay Area in 1975. He calls home Yellow Springs, Ohio, and usually passes the doorstep in June to get his Christmas cards. He describes his style as romantic folk-western, plays guitar and harmonica and has an album appropriately titled, "Hobo" on the Philo label.

Concerts which are free to the public start at 2 p.m. Stern Grove is located at 19th Avenue and Sloat Boulevard. Public transportation is via the "K" Ingleside and the "M" Ocean View Muni streetcars and the No. 18 Sloat and No. 28 Nineteenth Avenue Muni bus lines.

A program of familiar and brilliant selections has been assembled by Kurt Herbert Adler for the "San Francisco Opera Concert in the Park" on Sunday, September 11, at the Music Concourse, Golden Gate Park.

Adler, General Director of the San Francisco Opera, will conduct the San Francisco Opera Orchestra, which will present the Concert along with three internationally acclaimed opera singers, Italian soprano Renata Scotto, Russian mezzo Elena Obraztsova and Spanish tenor Giacomo Aragall.

Miss Scotto was born in Savona on the Ligurian Riviera in Italy. She began her vocal studies in her teens as a mezzo soprano, moving to Milan at sixteen where she began studies with the famed Spanish soprano Mercedes Llopart who converted the young artist into the soprano repertory. Until recently, Renata Scotto was known for unique interpretations of the bel canto heroines in "Lucia de Lammermoor," "Don Pasquale," "L'Elisir d'Amore," "I Puritani," and her first international success, Anna in "La Sonnambula" at the Edinburgh Festival. In the last few seasons, however, the soprano has taken on a heavier, more dramatic repertory, more adaptable to the darker hue, more mature sound of her voice. Miss Scotto appeared in the first live television broadcast from the Metropolitan Opera, playing Mimi in Puccini's La Boheme.

Russian mezzo soprano Elena Obraztsova, who sings la Principessa di Bouillon in Adriana Lecouvreur, captivated American critics when she appeared in New York and Washington, D.C. during the historic first visit of the Bolshoi Opera to this country in 1975. When she portrayed Azucena for her debut with an American opera company in the all-star Il Trovatore which opened the 1975 San Francisco Opera season, critics and audiences alike were equally enthusiastic. Audiences in the West were first able to hear her perform in opera during the Bolshoi visits to La Scala in 1964 and to the Montreal Expo in 1967. Last year at the Metropolitan, she made her debut as Amneris in Aida and is scheduled to sing Carmen, Dalila and Charlotte in Werther there in the 1977-1978 season.

Renowned for the beautiful lyric quality of his voice, Spanish tenor Giacomo Aragall has sung in virtually every major opera house in the world. Emigrating to Italy in 1962, Aragall was first prize winner in the International Vocal Competition held at Busseto, Italy, the home of Giusepp Verdi, and was soon thereafter engaged by La Scala. Debuts outside Italy followed in Vienna (1966) and at Covent Garden and the Metropolitan Opera (1968). He will portray the title role in Faust and Maurizio in Cilea's Adriana Lecouvreur.

All three artists will appear in the 1977 season opening production of Adriana Lecouvreur.

Vocal selections will include pieces by Verdi, Tchaikovsky, Puccini and Donizetti.

Sponsored by the Friends of Recreation and Parks, the free program will start at 2 p.m. The public is cordially invited.

San Francisco Mayor George R. Moscone will make a special presentation during the intermission.

The Music Concourse is located in Golden Gate Park between the de Young Museum and the California Academy of Sciences near the Japanese Tea Garden.

Obraztsova will sing "O don fatale" from Verdi's "Don Carlo" and, in Russian, the aria from Tchaikovsky's "Joan of Arc," usually known as "Adieu forets." Scotto will sing "Vissi d'Arte" from Puccini's "Tosca" as well as joining Aragall in the love duet from act one of "Madama Butterfly." Aragall will also sing "Fra poco" from the last act of Donizetti's "Lucia."

Orchestral numbers, conducted by Kurt Herbert Adler with the San Francisco Opera Orchestra, will include Rossini's "Siege of Corinth" overture, the intermezzo from Puccini's "Manon Lescaut," the overture to Verdi's "Sicilian Vespers" and the prelude and love-death from Wagner's "Tristan and Isolde."

Sunday's event will be the fifth Opera Concert sponsored by the Friends of Recreation and Parks. At the last concert in 1976, the magnificent Beverly Sills, together with the San Francisco Opera Orchestra presented one of the most memorable concerts in local history. Previous singers include Luciano Pavarotti, Ingvar Wixell and Licia Albanese.

Friends of Recreation and Parks is involved in the development and cultivation of San Francisco's Recreation and Parks programs along with the generation of financial support.

The Opera Concert is made possible by a generous donation to the Friends of Recreation and Parks by the San Francisco Examiner Benefit Fund along with the cooperation of Local No. 6 of the American Federation of Musicians.

The Music Concourse can be reached by the No. 10 Monterey Muni bus line and is near the No. 5 McAllister, No. 71 Haight-Noriega and No. 72 Haight-Sunset lines.

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Over fifty Eucalyptus trees in Golden Gate Park's Panhandle will be pruned beginning September 12th. The trees, which were planted over 100 years ago, are along Fell Street from Baker Street to Stanyan Street. They have not been trimmed in over twelve years.

Funds for the deferred maintenance project were obtained from Title II Federal monies allocated by Mayor George C. Moscone to upgrade district neighborhoods.

According to San Francisco Recreation and Park Department's Assistant Superintendent of Parks, Frank Piltz, the trees will be pruned at this time for public safety and as a general beautification of the area. He also noted that the six tree toppers involved in the project are fully aware of the historical heritage of the vintage trees having conducted a similar pruning program last April in the Panhandle along Oak Street. Piltz also stated that the trees in that area are already starting to bud.

The tree pruning program will extend through the month of October.
